ABOUT ME (个人简介)

Undergraduate student in Computer Science at Khushal Khan Khattak University, Karak (CGPA 3.56 / 4.00), with research interests in the Internet of Things (IoT), cloud computing and computer networks. I am particularly interested in how IoT devices connect to cloud platforms and communicate over networks, and in building web-based applications to monitor and control them. I have programming experience in Python and C++ and hands-on front-end skills in HTML5, CSS3, JavaScript and React.js, shown through several responsive web projects. I am seeking admission to a Master's program in Computer Science in China, where I hope to build a strong research foundation in IoT and cloud-based systems under the guidance of a supervisor.
